2. What school do children/youth living off base attend?

Kirtland AFB has unique educational opportunities within commuting distance to the base- Albuquerque Public Schools (APS) is the 31st largest school district in the country with about 87,000 students and 142 schools. There are three additional nearby school districts with a combined 38 schools, there are 61 charter schools and 66 private schools for a total of 307 schools in commuting distance. There are also virtual schools options and many home schooling families and communities. As a result, we have students in many different schools all over the area.

3. When does school start?

The school year typically starts in our area around the second week of August and get out for the year before Memorial Day. The school year starts for students in the Albuquerque Public Schools district on August 11, 2017 and most other schools in the area start around the same time.

The school day starts early for high school students at around 7:30 for most public schools. Many schools have zero hour for electives like band, chorus, ROTC which starts around 6:30 am. Public middle schools typically starts around 8:15 am and elementary school vary with either an early start (7:30- 8:00ish am) or late around 9:00 am.

4. How old must a child be to start school?

In New Mexico, a child must turn five years old by August 31 to start in a public school Kindergarten. Private schools can and do take younger students. If your child completes kindergarten in an accredited private Kindergarten and are academically ready, they can start in First grade in the public schools the following year. They will have to demonstrate academic readiness and may be placed in Kindergarten if the school determines they need additional time in Kindergarten.

If your child did not turn five years old by the cutoff date, but you move after your child has started Kindergarten in your previous location and you are an active duty family, the Interstate Compact for the Educational Opportunity for Military Students allows your child to enroll in Kindergarten.

5. What are the school's accountability data (ranking, test scores, financial, demographics, etc.)?

The New Mexico Public Education Department (NMPED) give each school a grade each year. The grade is based on the school's test scores, attendance and other factors. The school's report also includes financial (free and reduced lunch numbers) and demographic information. You can find current and past year's grade (School Grading button) and find detailed information on the results of PARCC testing (New Mexico PARCC Results Dashboard button) at the NMPED's website- <http://ped.state.nm.us>.

6. Which schools do most of the installation children attend?

For student's living in base housing, the majority of elementary students attend Sandia Base Elementary School. Middle and High school students generally attend a variety of different schools in the local area.

7. How far is the walk or bus ride to and from school?

Sandia Base Elementary School is located in base housing, so all students walk to school as it is located within one mile of all residences. Students in middle school are bused to Van Buren Middle School which is 2 miles from base housing. High school students are bused to Highland High School which is 3 miles from base housing.

8. What are the boundaries for the various off-base schools?

The boundary maps for Albuquerque Public Schools can be found at <http://www.aps.edu/capital-master-plan/attendance-areas>.

9. What is the school registration procedure?

You will need the following documents to register your child in Albuquerque Public Schools:

- Child's birth certificate
- Child's vaccination records
- Proof of address (such as a current utility bill, mortgage, or lease agreement with your name and current address on it)

This is typically what you will need for any public school district schools. If your child will be attending a charter or private school, you will need to contact the school directly for registration requirements.

10. What kind of before and after-school and holiday care programs are available?

Many organizations in Albuquerque offer before/after school programs. These programs provide a variety of activities, including:

-  Arts and crafts
-  Field trips
-  Recreation
-  Study time

Kirtland AFB's Before and After School program at the Youth Center services Sandia Base Elementary and Kirtland Elementary School. For more information about this program, call the Youth Center at 853-KIDS (5437). Eligibility requirements and priority of authorized use follow Department of Defense and Air Force policies; contact the Youth Center for details.

For other programs and schools served, visit the school's website or APS's Before & After School program's information page at www.aps.edu/schools/before-and-after-school-programs. Fees vary according to the agency providing the service.

11. What are the state procedures for home schooling?

Parents have a number of choices if they are interested in homeschooling. All parents must follow certain state guidelines and must notify the state of the establishment of a home school via the home school website (electronically), or send written notification to the Secretary of Education at 300 Don Gaspar Santa Fe, NM 87501-2786 (Attention: Home School Bureau) within thirty (30) days of establishment of a Home School and re-notify on or before April 1st of each year thereafter. The Public Education Department of New Mexico's Home Schools bureau disseminates information and provides technical assistance to parents, community members, schools, and district personnel on home schools. Home schools are operated by a parent or legal guardian of a school-age person who instructs a home study program, including but not limited to reading, language arts, mathematics, social studies, and science. These students are not considered public school students and do not receive credits for the courses, unless the home study program is through an accredited correspondence school. For further information, visit the NMPED Home School webpage at <http://www.ped.state.nm.us/HomeSchools/> or call the NMPED Home Schools Office at (505) 827-6909. Resources provided by the New Mexico Public Education Department can be found on the webpage.
